

New tennis opportunities for players with Autism

These opportunities include eligibility to:

- ▶ Play in the Australian Tennis Championships being hosted at the Australian Open in January
- ▶ Compete at the Players with an intellectual impairment (PWII) State Championships
- ▶ Participating in local PWII Tournaments
- ▶ International representative competitions for high-functioning Autism are currently being developed by INAS

In addition to these Tennis Australia opportunities, Special Olympics also run national and international events for those with high-functioning Autism.

Updated eligibility information for players with high-functioning Autism is available here (II-3 classification):

<https://inas.org/about-us/athlete-eligibility/about-eligible-groups>

For more information on how to get involved contact:

George Shephard
Tennis Australia
National Diversity & Inclusion
Tournament Coordinator
(gshephard@tennis.com.au)