Tennis Australia commitment statement

Tennis Australia has a zero tolerance approach to any form of child abuse and is committed to ensuring the sport of tennis is a safe and friendly environment for children and young people. It is imperative that children and young people who access our activities, programs, events or services feel safe and supported.

We will ensure that child safety is embedded in our organisation's culture, reflected in our policies and procedures, and understood and practiced at all levels of our sport. We commit to making sure that everyone involved with delivering tennis in Australia, from club administrators, volunteers, parents and participants, understand the important responsibilities they have in relation to child safety.

Our commitment extends beyond creating an environment that minimises risk or danger. We are committed to building an environment that is both child-safe and child-friendly.

Together we can provide an environment in which children feel respected, valued and encouraged to reach their full potential.

About this resource kit

In 2016, Tennis Australia engaged the Australian Childhood Foundation (ACF) to undertake a nation-wide review of the Tennis Australia Member Protection Policy and all child-related procedures.

The following resource kit is intended to provide club administrators with the tools they need to ensure their organisation is child-safe. The resources have been developed in association with the ACF and are based on nationally recognised standards for the ACF Safeguarding Children program.

This resource kit is not meant to act as a stand-alone document. It is part of a bigger safeguarding children training campaign.

All resources mentioned in this kit can be downloaded from the Tennis Australia website at tennis.com.au/childsafes

What is a child-safe organisation?

A child-safe organisation is committed to protecting children from physical, sexual, emotional and psychological harm and from neglect.

A club, ATO or group can only be classified as a child-safe organisation once all of its members are able to recognise and understand their moral and legal responsibilities to ensuring children, participating in their tennis services, activities, programs or events, are safe and have been provided with a safe and positive environment.

This approach will help your club to grow and prosper.

Screening

Tennis Australia encourages clubs / Associations to undertake the screening process outline in Clause 9 of the Member Protection Policy.

There are certain roles where the screening process is mandatory.

In some States / Territories a National Police check is not a legislative requirement.

When the Member Protection Policy is inconsistent with State / Territory law the relevant State / Territory law prevails to the extent of inconsistency.

Your club's commitment to safeguarding children

The ACF recommends an organisation clearly and publicly makes a commitment to safeguarding children and young people.

This commitment should:

- Address abuse and neglect committed within the community, as well as within an organisation by its personnel
- Articulate formally that an organisation's personnel must all respond appropriately should they have a concern for an incidence of abuse or neglect being committed by anyone within or outside of the organisation

- Be endorsed and approved by the most senior management authority/Board within the organisation.

Below is an example of a child-safety commitment statement which can be adopted by your club.

You can download a commitment to safeguarding children poster at tennis.com.au/childsafes
