

History of the Friends of the Australian Tennis Museum

Since 1983 The Friends of the Australian Tennis Museum have collected, conserved and displayed tennis memorabilia on behalf of the Australian Tennis Museum. The Museum was originally based at White City, relocating to Sydney Olympic Park Tennis Centre in 2005.

The museum houses temporary exhibitions and holds numerous functions throughout the year to help raise money. The museum library is an extensive resource used by tennis enthusiasts and researchers to compile histories of Australian tennis.

New acquisitions include:

Sam Stosur's Lacoste dress in which she won U.S Open women's title 2011
Runner- Up Trophy from Champions Down Under donated by John McEnroe 2010
Rose Payton tennis trophies and shield's from the 1900's
Ted Tingling tennis dress worn by Jan O'Neill at Wimbledon in the 1960's
Metal tennis court roller from the 1930's

You can become a member of The Friends of the Australian Tennis Museum and help the Museum to preserve tennis history by filling in the application form and paying a yearly subscription fee of $30.00.
