ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY

Tennis Queensland acknowledges the traditional custodians of the lands on which we gather and play, and pay our respects to their elders past, present and emerging.

CHAIRPERSON REPORT TENNIS QUEENSLAND

I am honoured to be the first elected female Chairperson for the Board of Tennis Queensland. This election, as well as the Tennis Queensland Gender Equity Plan, demonstrates the growth we have seen in the organisation when it comes to being more inclusive; with priority being placed on creating equitable access across our game, organisation and governance positions.

“OUR FOCUS ON INCLUSION EXTENDS TO OUR PLAYER PATHWAYS AND ENSURING WE CONTINUE TO GROW OPPORTUNITIES FOR PLAYERS OF ALL ABILITIES.”

This year we have seen incredible results from our Queenslanders across both wheelchair and players with intellectual impairment (PWII) events.

Ben Wenzel of Cairns earned selection for the Australian Junior Wheelies team and represented Australia at the 2022 BNP Paribas World Team Cup where they were crowned World Champions at the event in Portugal. Archie Graham has continued his reign at the top with a strong start to the year, taking out the II-1 Men’s Singles and Doubles at the 2022 Australian Open PWII Finals held at Mlebourne Park in January. Timothy Gould was also rewarded for a great year, receiving a Newcombe Medal, Australian Tennis Award for the Most Outstanding Athlete with a Disability. We are incredibly proud of our Queenslanders and look forward to continuing to support their journeys across the coming year.

Our local disciplinary tribunals have been reinstated which is an important step for Tennis Queensland. We prioritised player behavior and attitudes over results, ensuring that great culture and player attitudes like those displayed by Ash Barty and John Millman are the benchmark for all Queenslanders who hit the court.

The Board of Directors has seen a collaborative approach this year, working together with Company Members and the delivery network to make important changes to grow our game. One of the many notable achievements of the Tennis Queensland team is not just the collaboration across all of our regions and departments to ensure tennis thrives across all Queensland clubs; but also the delivery of a surplus budget and success of the Queensland Tennis Centre as a heartbeat facility for tennis in Queensland.

We have worked to be more transparent with stronger working relationships within the tennis community and we look to build upon this established foundation in the year ahead.

Our affiliation retention demonstrates the strength we have achieved by working together and encourages me that we are on the right path forward. 2021/2022 saw the tennis family grow with AusPlay data highlighting substantial increases in participation, with data reporting 1,529,000 Aussies, including 1,227,800 adults and 301,200 children, picked up a racquet throughout the latest reporting period. Tennis was the fastest growing sport across all ages and out-performed 15 other activities and sports, including AFL, basketball and soccer.

I appreciate and enjoy the opportunity to work with such committed and hardworking Board members who support the great team at Tennis Queensland and I thank them all for their ongoing contribution. Together we are achieving significant outcomes for our sport and our tennis family across Queensland.

Thank you all for your ongoing support.

CEO REPORT TENNIS QUEENSLAND

WHAT A YEAR IT HAS BEEN

We have seen many changes, opportunities and challenges across 2021/22. Through the highs and the lows, we have seen an undercurrent of passion, community and resilience from everyone in the tennis community.

It has been wonderful to see the rich contributions from our affiliates, clubs, associations, coaches, volunteers, officials, schools, players, venues, and events. Tennis continues to thrive due to the hard work and collaboration of all involved. We can all be proud of the accomplishments of the tennis community and I urge each and every one of you to pause and reflect on what you have brought to the game this year.

Our great game is in good shape, and through working together, we will continue the momentum of this year to great heights as we lead into the green and gold runway of the 2032 Brisbane Olympic and Paralympic Games, which will see our state and our tennis talent on the global stage.

CHALLENGES

2021/2022 has brought opportunity as well as challenges to our tennis community. The COVID-19 pandemic continued to have lingering impacts and extreme weather conditions such as rain, floods and heat saw tennis come to a halt at times across our diverse region. I am proud of the collective and community led response to these adversities, galvanizing our tennis landscape and local communities.

Although these impacts are not over, with some affiliates still wearing the brunt of these challenges, our sport has continued to grow and inspire a new generation of players.

Our beloved Brisbane Tennis also fell victim to the ongoing impacts of the pandemic, with the event unable to go ahead for a second year. We look forward to welcoming international tennis back to the sunshine state for the upcoming Summer of Tennis.

THE TENNIS QUEENSLAND TEAM

It has been an honour and a privilege to work alongside the Tennis Queensland team through this time. An agile workforce, innovating and growing our game in collaboration with our delivery network. The team can be proud of the collective achievements coming out of these uncertain times. We have grown, learnt and explored new initiatives and with our affiliates, I look forward to this innovative spirit continuing for many years to come.

I'd like to acknowledge the work of our previous CEO Mr. Mark Handley, who resigned from the role in December 2021. Mark stepped down with a strong legacy of growth, overseeing four successive years of operating surplus for the company, exponential growth in activity at the Queensland Tennis Centre, and record participation rates across the state despite the challenges of the pandemic. He has made a lasting legacy within the Queensland tennis community, and we wish him the best in his next chapter.

GROWING THE GAME TOGETHER

Collaboration has been a constant theme throughout this year. We have continued to work closely with all levels of Government to grow, maintain and sustain our facilities and bring new inclusive initiatives such as the Click to the Court project (through ActiveKIT funding), Tennis in State Schools Initiative (TISSI) and Women and Girls initiatives to life. We are also grateful to have celebrated our fifth year of Tennis on the Speakers Green, an annual event which celebrates our ongoing partnership with the Queensland Government and our Parliamentary Friends of Tennis.

We have engaged our regions to build our competitive play landscape together, with seven competitive play working groups established across the state, led by the Regional Assemblies, to understand the wants and needs at a local level.

"...THERE HAS BEEN GREAT SUCCESS THIS YEAR WITH A COHESIVE APPROACH..."

linking Tennis Australia, Tennis Queensland and affiliates. We look forward to continuing and growing the collaborative approach further.

To our partners, we are incredibly thankful for all the support you provide our sport. To the Queensland State Government, Local Governments, Health and Wellbeing Queensland and importantly, Tennis Australia, we look forward to continuing our respective partnerships and continuing the great work of the past year into the next.

A special mention must also go to Craig Tiley, Tom Larner, the Tennis Australia team and my respective Member Association CEO's, I appreciate the support you have provided to myself and the Tennis Queensland team as we continue to support our tennis delivery network across Queensland to enable more people playing more often.

Finally, to the Tennis Queensland staff, I would like to thank the team for their ongoing commitment and passion for the work they do every day. Their dedication to support and grow the Queensland tennis community is an inspiration. The sport is very fortunate to have such an amazing team of people promoting and driving this great game to new heights.

It has been an honour to lead the organisation over the last six months and head into the next year with a focus on collaboration and making our game more accessible at every level.

CEO REPORT TENNIS AUSTRALIA

A REMARKABLE YEAR

It has truly been a remarkable year.

Together we rose from a pandemic to greater heights and some stunning outcomes.

It started in triumph with Ash Barty following in the footsteps of her long-time friend and mentor, Evonne Goolagong Cawley, to become the first Australian woman to win Wimbledon in 41 years. The world No.1 went onto claim the singles and doubles titles in Adelaide before becoming the first Aussie to win on home soil since 1978. A victory watched by more than 4.261 million Australian viewers... and unbeknownst to any of us, her final match. What a way to mark 100 years since women first competed in the Australasian Championships.

Dylan Alcott also soared. With victories in every Grand Slam quad wheelchair singles event and another gold medal at the Tokyo Paralympics, the much-loved Melburnian became the first man in tennis to win a Golden Slam. His achievements on and off the court were recognized in January when he was named Australian of the Year.

A 14-strong team of players represented Australia in Tokyo at the Olympic and Paralympic Games, where Ash teamed with John Peers to win bronze in mixed doubles, and Dylan and Heath Davidson combined superbly to claim the silver medal in doubles.

In January world-class tennis returned to Sydney, Adelaide, Melbourne and regional Victoria and the 157 Aussie players who competed did not disappoint with Thanasi Kokkinakis winning his maiden ATP title in front of a home crowd Adelaide.

John Peers took home the doubles crown in Sydney and Dylan Alcott claimed his final quad singles title at the Victorian Wheelchair Open before teaming up with Heath Davidson to win the doubles.

The Australian Open was one for the history books with Ash's win immediately followed by Thanasi Kokkinakis and Nick Kyrgios defeating fellow Aussies Matt Ebden and Max Purcell to claim the men's doubles title.

The new Competitive Play Framework also launched in January to make it easier for players to understand their level on the pathway and find competitive opportunities most suited to their standard. The number of endorsed events increased 70 per cent in the first six months to more than 300 with 11,934 players competing.

A new qualification criteria was introduced for National Junior Championships and more than 150 up-and-coming tennis players represented their state at the annual junior team competition with a further 131 players competing in Canberra in the Claycourt Nationals.

During the year, more than 5000 young players are in Talent Development programs around Australia with 40 players aged between 15 and 23 qualifying for the National Tennis Academy. Another 760 girls went to Female in Tennis development camps -getting quality coaching in sync with trends and tactics of the modern women's game.

The Australian player success inspired many of us onto the court during the year, participation growing 14 per cent to 1.514 million with a 20 per cent increase in the number of adults playing the sport. Our Schools Program celebrated being the number one delivered Sporting Schools program for the sixth year in a row.

Play.Tennis.com.au continues to be fundamental to the growing the game with traffic to the website increasing 605 per cent during January 2022 and more than 75 per cent of the Australian population able to book a court online within 15 kilometres of their homes.

Tennis Hot Shots had 634,473 kids participating while our Tennis in Schools program continues to be the No.1 requested and delivered sport as part of the Sporting Schools initiative. And another 40,000 kids across Australia enjoyed AO Holiday Programs delivered by 275 coaches at 450 venues during January.

Whether they are developing the next elite athlete, teaching a young kid to hold a racquet for the first time or out there on tour, the connection between a coach and their player is something that remains constant. It takes dedicated coaches to spark the passion for tennis and our 3200 coach members are the driving force behind the growth of our tennis programs.

Australian Francois Vogelsberger was awarded the International Tennis Federation's Wheelchair Tennis Coach of the Year. Vogelsberger was recognised for his work with Dylan Alcott and Heath Davidson, who were both top 10-ranked players in the quad wheelchair division. He also won the Australian Tennis Award for Coaching Excellence in Performance.

Tennis continues to deliver coach education courses facilitated by a qualified team. More than 600 coaches have enrolled in courses over the past 12 months. Another 630 tennis Coaches from 31 countries participated in the virtual Grand Slam Coaches Conference, featuring 49 world class presenters from 13 countries.

Coach Connect launches to engage, educate and connect, focused on the recruitment and retention of female coaches. 200+ participants have enrolled in mentoring, workshops and networks since its inception. And in May, the Women Leaders in Tennis program consisting of formal learning, networking and mentoring opportunities launched. The program has been developed to help build the confidence and competence of current and emerging leaders.

We continued to foster safe, inclusive tennis venues that thrive in their respective communities. A national education and awareness campaign called A Safer Game Plan launched in October 2021 and more than 400 staff members and 788 Club administrators, TA Coach Members and Officials attend a series of safeguarding children training workshops.

Since 2007, more than $29 million has been invested into facility development as part of the National Court Rebate initiative, partnering with all levels of government and the local community to generate over $430 million in investment over this period (excluding major event venues). This included helping more than 20 flood-affected venues are being supported with their clean-up efforts and to get them back up and running.

The HIT tool helps improve the experience and accessibility of reporting on the performance of tennis venues nationwide. Venue reporting information is now entered via online forms and submitted directly into the HIT platform, ensuring greater data accuracy and richer insights.

"...THE COMMUNITY SPIRIT OF TENNIS CONTINUES TO THRIVE LARGELY DUE TO THE SUPPORT AND DEDICATION OF OVER 25,000 PASSIONATE VOLUNTEERS."

To complement their work, initiatives like the National Hitting Wall project and Women Leaders in Tennis program create opportunities within local communities to both support and encourage grassroots access to the sport, as well as to foster diverse community engagement.

An artistic initiative to showcase hitting walls around the country as part of a push to increase community participation in tennis. The national project sees walls redesigned by local artists in every state and territory. With more than 450 hitting walls at affiliated venues and clubs across Australia, and hundreds more in community parks and public settings, hitting against a wall is a great way for people of all ages to have fun, stay active and improve their tennis skills.

As the traditional game continues to grow, so too do new and emerging formats. More than 10,000 Australian Open fans got to experience Padel, POP and Beach Tennis in 2022. These formats offer exciting scope to broaden the reach of traditional tennis, and to engage both existing players as well as brand new participants.

We recognize the opportunity and responsibility we have to harness the power of tennis to champion equality, sustainability, mental health and wellbeing. Some of the initiatives introduced this past year include holding the first AO Pride Day which saw more than 140 LGBTQ+ players from around Australia compete in the AO Glam Slam presented by Ralph Lauren with the finals held on Kia Arena.

The inaugural AO First Nations Day was also held with a Koorie Heritage Cultural Walk from Birrarung Marr. Yolngu man, Baker Boy performed on Rod Laver Arena before the night session.

As we reflect on this remarkable 12 months and look to the future, we should be proud of all that we achieved during this time. We made use of every moment spent off the court as a result of the pandemic to dive deeply into our coaching and competitive play ecosystems around Australia and start building plans for ongoing improvement.

Our engagement with coaches and the playing community throughout this process highlighted the importance of building stronger relationships, finding improved ways to connect, learning from each other's experiences and planning together for the future of our game. A future that looks brighter each day.

FACILITIES

CREATING SUSTAINABLE AND SUCCESSFUL FACILITIES

When talking with all levels of government, Tennis Queensland continues to place a strong emphasis on the need for developing new tennis facilities in areas of identified need and upgrading existing facilities. This is based on the current state-wide Strategic Plan (Queensland Tennis Facilities Plan 2028 – QTFP28) and the preparation of tailored individual Council Strategic Plans prepared over the last few years. We are now able to compliment these plans with additional demographic data from the Aura tool to better support our plans for additional new or expanded facilities to be developed in the areas of greatest current and future needs. The Aura tool allows us to better understand local demographics and the likelihood of play in local areas comparative to historic and locally collected data such as AusPlay.

The recent development of the Health Indicator of Tennis (HIT) Tool with Tennis Australia and the Member Associations will provide even greater insights to all levels of government as to the health of our sport and our clubs at a local, regional and state level. This tool looks at the health of a club in terms of participation, governance, infrastructure condition and financial sustainability. The forthcoming 2022-23 financial year will see our Field Team working with our clubs primarily in 12 identified priority Councils (as identified in QTFP28) to complete HIT Tool and Venue Audits so we can provide vastly improved data to justify and advocate for the development of additional or expanded facilities in these locations.

Securing funding for new facilities and the upgrading of existing centres continues to be challenging in an environment where significantly less grant funding has been made available by all levels of government. The availability has been significantly impacted in the last two years due to the pandemic and a series of natural disasters. However, there has been some considerable progress in planning for identified significant future projects with some of our key councils and the Queensland Government.

NEW FACILITY UPGRADES

Despite the challenging funding landscape, 2021-2022 saw 31 new courts constructed as well as 174 courts upgraded. The total investment in these projects was approximately $16.5 million. Some of the more significant new and upgraded tennis facility projects completed this year included:

CLUB/CENTRE/ASSOCIATION	PROJECT
Northern Gold Coast Regional Sport Park at Pimpama	8 new courts as part of a large new community sports hub.
Narangba Tennis Club	6 new courts and new club house.
Weipa Sports Complex	3 new courts as part of a new indoor and outdoor sporting complex.
Samford Tennis Club	2 new courts.
Tennis Townsville	Significant clubhouse redevelopment and extensions.

COURT TECH

The Tennis Queensland Facilities Development Manager provides a considerable amount of technical advice and support to affiliates, schools, private court owners and all levels of government. This has ranged from answering simple questions by phone or email to clarify court dimensions and surfacing options through to more technical matters such as inspecting existing infrastructure to identify issues and solutions or undertaking lighting assessments.

More detailed and complex services for significant projects, such as the design of new facilities, development of construction specifications, design reviews and project management are provided on a fee for service basis through Tennis Queensland – Court Tech.

As a benefit of affiliation and to support all grant funding applications, Tennis Queensland also offers Quantity Surveyor Certified Estimates for all planned or proposed future projects. Providing these estimates at no cost ensures any budget establishment and subsequent grant funding applications submitted by our affiliates for their projects are based on:

- the correct amount of money required to complete the project properly (including allowances for project management, engaging specialist consultants where required, other applicable project costs / fees / charges, cost escalation to a future construction date and appropriate contingency allowances),
- using suitably qualified and experienced contractors to complete the works and basing the correct scope of works required for their site, to ensure a quality long term outcome.

This service has taken the pressure off our affiliates to try and guess the required scope of works for their projects and obtain quotes from contractors that are often not prepared on the same basis. By adopting this process, we can ensure our clubs engage with reputable contractors at all stages of their project.

The industry also supports this process. When a funding grant opportunity arises, many contractors are typically being asked to provide quotes for hundreds of projects across numerous sports. Furthermore, most grant opportunities are heavily oversubscribed and many genuinely worthy projects are not able to be funded. Therefore, many of these quotes are for projects unlikely to proceed, which is frustrating for these contractors.

During the 2021-22 year, Court Tech prepared more than 90 Quantity Surveyor estimates for projects seeking funding from a range of grant programs offered by local governments, the state government (Active Gameday Projects, multiple rounds of the Gambling Community Benefit Fund, etc.) and the federal government (Building Better Regions, etc.). This has resulted in more than $1.5 million of funding secured for our clubs in 2021-2022.

Court Tech is a registered business within Tennis Queensland offering a wide range of facilities development advisory and professional consultancy services as well as full project management for larger projects. In 2021-22 Tennis Queensland - Court Tech consultancy services were provided on numerous projects involving both new tennis courts and facilities as well as the upgrading of existing courts. Those consultancies secured include:

- project management for the reconstruction of 2 courts at Giru for the Burdekin Shore Council
- project management for the resurfacing of 11 courts across 4 sites for the Somerset Regional Council
- design input for the 4 additional courts at Earlville Tennis Club for the Cairns Regional Council
- facility audits of 11 tennis and netball sites for the Moreton Bay Regional Council
- project management for the reconstruction of 7 tennis and netball courts at Moreton Bay College
- project management for the construction of 6 new courts at Cannon Hill Anglican College
- project management for LED lighting upgrades at Mareeba Tennis Club, Tennis Townsville and Sandgate District Youth Tennis Association funded via the Active Gameday Grants Program
- project management for LED lighting upgrades at the Rockhampton Regional Tennis Centre
- project management of lighting installations at The Range Tennis Club, Ingham District Tennis Association and Gumdale State School

COURT ACCESS TECHNOLOGY

Over the last 12 months, tennis has seen a shift towards utilising digital technologies to improve access to our sport. A major way this has been achieved is through the implementation of online technology to book and pay for tennis courts online.

Book a Court

The Book a Court system has been installed in 40 venues in Queensland to date and is top of the range in fully automated court access systems. This system comprises of an electronic keypad and lock installed to court gates with a unique 4-digit pin code provided for every booking, with court lighting functionality built in for evening bookings.

Click to the Court

Recently, Tennis Queensland, was successful in securing an innovation grant from the Queensland Government to develop and install a more cost effective online and automated court access system for our clubs (refer to page 24). This more basic system involves the utilisation of the court booking module in the ClubSpark software system provided to affiliates for free. This links via an App to electronic padlocks installed to court gates.

An extension of the padlock system has been made available for clubs to provide lighting automation for night-time bookings through the installation of an additional lighting control unit.

With this new alternative becoming available, the Book a Court system suppliers will soon be releasing some more cost effective variants of their system that will be comparable in price to the electronic padlock and lighting control unit package now available. Any affiliated venue wishing to explore court access opportunities is encouraged to contact their local Tennis Development Officer for more information.

This year, with the program firmly embedded in many schools, there has been a shift in focus to the transition of students participating in school based programs to a local club or coaching program. This has resulted in the establishment of the pilot program 'Classroom to Club' which has seen great success in engaging children with their local club and/or coach.

Tennis Queensland are committed to embracing diversity by ensuring our sport and events are welcoming, safe and inclusive for everyone. We believe that being inclusive is reflecting the diversity of our local communities and that everyone should have the opportunity to be included and engaged through tennis in a way that is positive and meaningful.

2021 EVONNE GOOLAGONG CAWLEY HITTING WALL PROJECT - NOOSA

“I used to see how many times I could hit the ball against the wall, one bounce without making a mistake, then write the highest score in the dirt, then come back the next day and try and beat that score. And that’s how I got better and better each day.”

- Evonne Goolagong Cawley

Wiradjuri woman Evonne Goolagong Cawley’s spectacular tennis career famously started in humble surrounds, when as a young girl she hit tennis balls against a wall in her backyard using a wooden bat her father crafted from an apple crate.

The achievements of the seven-time Grand Slam champion was celebrated as part of Tennis Australia’s artistic new initiative to showcase hitting walls around the country as part of a push to increase community participation in tennis. Goolagong Cawley officially launched the campaign at the Noosa Tennis Club, unveiling a stunning seven metre wide design featuring the work of Indigenous artist Maggie-Jean Douglas, a Gubbi Gubbi woman. The artwork incorporates references to Evonne’s totem, the goanna, and her last name, which means ‘tall trees by still water’, in a collaboration with renowned portrait artist Paik.

COMPETITIVE PLAY

COMPETITIVE PLAY REVIEW

2021/22 saw the 2020/21 Competitive Play Review and its recommendations come to fruition with the launch of a new Competitive Play Framework and Calendar rolled out across the country.

Although the pandemic presented some unfamiliar challenges, it gave Tennis an opportunity to review its current landscape and reflect upon player pathways. This resulted in the Competitive Play Review.

Tennis Australia, alongside Tennis Queensland developed with much consultation the competitive play blueprint, with a focus on how to increase competitive participation, reduce the confusion of ratings and rankings and increase local opportunities for players.

Queensland also took this opportunity to consult with a diverse group of stakeholders across the state and formed Regional Assembly Competitive Play Working Groups who were the voice of the regions. By having regional input, Tennis Queensland was able to ensure that stakeholders had the opportunity to co-create calendars and playing opportunities that met the needs of Queensland players, with a tailored approach taken across for each region.

Following the Competitive Play review, the Universal Tennis Rating (UTR) was embedded into the tennis competitive offering, with player ratings being used for event acceptance and seeding.

Through a series of workshops, pathways and products were established in a pre-emptive move to strengthen and compliment the Queensland tennis landscape. Alongside all tournaments, leagues and fixture competitions were included into measuring a player rating.

This allowed the UTR system to capture all tournament, league and fixture matches to be measured and counted toward a players rating. Due to this, there is now a strong appetite for our affiliates to have their fixture match results recorded in League Manager and allow their players to develop their rating at their local club on a regular basis.

Tennis Queensland is in constant collaboration with the regions and Match Play Committee to ensure that we continue to build and improve our calendar for future years to come under the new rating system.

COMPETITIVE PLAY TOURNAMENTS & EVENTS

The pandemic proved to be the biggest challenge for events in 2021 with snap lock-downs, COVID-19 outbreaks and border closures causing challenges for both players and event organisers.

This unfortunately resulted in a number of annual events being cancelled, including the Junior Teams Carnival and Queensland Open (partially played, not unable to finish). Despite facing adversity, organisers were resilient and endeavoured to ensure there were adequate playing opportunities for players with additional events added to the calendar.

2022 saw the launch of a new competitive play calendar in line with the recommendations from the Competitive Play Review and Regional Assembly Competitive Play Working Groups.

2022 Australian Open

World No.1 Ash Barty continued a remarkable year, with impressive form at Wimbledon, winning her second major title and becoming the first Australian Ladies Singles Champion since her mentor Evonne Goolagong Cawley in 1980.

In her first Olympic Games, Barty joined forces with John Peers in Tokyo to claim bronze in the mixed doubles event. It was Australia's first-ever medal in mixed doubles.

Barty then won a tour-leading fifth title for 2021 in Cincinnati, before ending her season after a third-round exit at the US Open.

Barty secured the year-end world No.1 ranking for the third straight year, an accomplishment matched only by legends Steffi Graf, Martina Navratilova, Chris Evert and Serena Williams, and spent more than 100 weeks at the top of the WTA Tour rankings.

Barty opened the 2022 season making history as the first Australian woman to win the Australian Open in 44 years since Chris O'Neil in 1978 by Defeating American 27th Seed Danielle Collins (6-3,7-6(2)) in straight sets. Ash put on a dominant display, clawing her way back from 5-1 down in the second set to take the Championship in a thrilling tie-break.

After an extraordinary start to the year, Ash went on to formally announce her retirement from tennis, marking the end of her performance career. We thank Ash for her commitment and contribution to the game, which we know will continue to be felt for generations to come.

2021 ROD LAVER DAY

Celebrating 60 years since Rod Laver won his maiden Wimbledon Championship!

Queenslanders were encouraged to don their Wimbledon whites on July 8 in celebration of Rod Laver Day.

The day honoured Queensland's most successful tennis player and coincided with the 60th anniversary of Rod Laver's first Wimbledon title.

Clubs, tournaments and even players on home courts got involved with the celebrations by donning their Wimbledon whites and having a rally like rod, with their best wooden racquets!

Laver, born in Rockhampton in 1938, won 11 Grand Slam singles titles and nine Grand Slam doubles titles, spanning a 24 year career as an amateur and professional player.

Known widely as the 'Rocket', he was ranked world No. 1 in nine different years, which is an all-time record in tennis. He is the only player to win all four grand slams in the same calendar year twice.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised and in any future periods affected.

The key estimates and judgements in the preparation of the financial statements are:

- (ii) Expected credit losses - refer to Note 3 (c)

As noted in Note 22, the Company is economically dependent upon Tennis Australia and receives grant funding therefrom that forms an integral part of the funding required for the Company to achieve its short and long term objectives. As part of the directors' consideration of the appropriateness of adopting the going concern basis in preparing the financial statements, a range of scenarios have been reviewed.

In the event that grant funding from Tennis Australia Limited should cease, or be reduced, it is the view of the officers that the Company would still be able to continue meeting the above objectives, albeit to a lesser extent.

The Directors have concluded that it is appropriate that these financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis, taking regard of the above and while acknowledging the uncertainties around forecasting financials in the COVID-19 environment. The Directors acknowledge that such uncertainties do not represent material uncertainties related to going concern.

(a) Financial instruments

(i) Recognition, initial measurement of derecognition

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the financial instrument, and are measured initially at fair value adjusted by transactions costs, except for those carried at fair value through profit or loss, which are measured initially at fair value. Subsequent measurement of financial assets and financial liabilities are described below.

Financial assets are derecognised when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or when the financial asset and all substantial risks and rewards are transferred. A financial liability is derecognised when it is extinguished, discharged, cancelled or expires.

(ii) Classification and subsequent measurement of financial assets

Except for those trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component and are measured at the transaction price, all financial assets are initially measured at fair value adjusted for transaction costs (where applicable).

For the purpose of subsequent measurement, financial assets other than those designated and effective as hedging instruments are classified into the following categories upon initial recognition:

- Amortised cost
- Fair value through profit or loss (FVPL)
- Equity instruments at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI)

All income and expenses relating to financial assets that are recognised in profit or loss are presented within finance costs, finance income or other financial items, except for impairment of trade receivables which is presented within other expenses. Classifications are determined by both:

- The Company's business model for managing the financial asset
- The contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial assets

All income and expenses relating to financial assets that are recognised in profit or loss are presented within finance costs, finance income or other financial items, except for impairment of trade receivables, which is presented within other expenses.

Classifications are determined by both:

- The Company's business model for managing the financial asset
- The contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial assets

All income and expenses relating to financial assets that are recognised in profit or loss are presented within finance costs, finance income or other financial items, except for impairment of trade receivables, which is presented within other expenses.

(iii) Subsequent measurement of financial assets

Financial assets at amortised cost

Financial assets are measured at amortised cost if the assets meet the following conditions (and are not designated as FVPL):

- They are held within a business model whose objective is to hold the financial assets and collect its contractual cash flows
- The contractual terms of the financial assets give rise to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding

After initial recognition, these are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Discounting is omitted where the effect of discounting is immaterial. The Company's cash and cash equivalents, trade and most other receivables fall into this category of financial instrument as well as long-term deposit that were previously classified as loans and receivables under AASB 139.

The Company does not currently hold any financial assets at FVPL or FVOCI.

(iv) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash balances and call deposits with maturities of three months or less from the acquisition date that are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in their fair value, and are used by the Company in the management of its short term commitments.

(a) Financial instruments (continued)

(v) Non-derivative financial liabilities

The Company has the following non-derivative financial liabilities: interest bearing liabilities, bank overdrafts and trade and other payables.

Financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value, and, where applicable, adjusted for transaction costs unless the Company designated a financial liability at fair value through profit or loss.

Subsequently, financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method except for derivatives and financial liabilities designated at FVPL, which are carried subsequently at fair value with gains or losses recognised in profit or loss.

All interest-related charges and, if applicable, changes in an instrument's fair value that are reported in profit or loss are included within finance costs or finance income.

(b) Property, plant and equipment

(i) Recognition and measurement

Items of property, plant and equipment are measured at cost or deemed cost less accumulated depreciation (see below) and accumulated impairment losses.

Cost includes expenditures that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. The cost of self-constructed assets includes the cost of materials, direct labour, the initial estimate, where relevant, of the costs of dismantling and removing the items and restoring the site on which they are located, and an appropriate proportion of production overheads. Purchased software that is integral to the functionality of the related equipment is capitalised as part of that equipment.

Where parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment.

Any gain or loss on disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment (calculated as the difference between the net proceeds from disposal and the carrying amount of the item) is recognised in profit or loss.

(ii) Subsequent costs

The cost of replacing part of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognised in the carrying amount of the item if it is probable that the future economic benefits embodied within the part will flow to the Company and its cost can be measured reliably. The costs of the day-to-day servicing of property, plant and equipment are recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

(iii) Depreciation

Depreciation is recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of each part of an item of property, plant and equipment.

The estimated useful lives in the current and comparative periods are as follows:

- | | |
|--------------------------|--------------|
| • Plant and equipment | 3 - 10 years |
| • Leasehold improvements | 3 - 10 years |

The residual value, the useful life and the depreciation method applied to an asset are reassessed at least annually.

(c) Impairment

(i) Financial assets (including receivables)

AASB 9's impairment requirements use more forward-looking information to recognise expected credit losses - the 'expected credit losses (ECL) model'. Instruments within the scope of the new requirements include loans and other debt-type financial assets measured at amortised cost.

The Company makes use of a simplified approach in accounting for trade and other receivables and records the loss allowance at the amount equal to the expected lifetime credit losses. In using this practical expedient, the Company uses its historical experience, external indicators and forward-looking information to calculate the expected credit losses using a provision matrix.

The Company assumes that the credit risk on a financial asset has increased significantly if it is more than 120 days past due.

The maximum period considered when estimating ECLs in the maximum contractual period over which the Association is exposed to credit risk.

Measurement of ECLs

ECLs are probability-weighted estimate of credit losses. Credit losses measured as the present value of all cash shortfalls (i.e the difference between the cash flow due to entity in accordance with the contract and the cash flow that the Association expects to receive).

ECLs are discounted at the effective interest rate of the financial asset.

Presentation of allowance of ECL in statement of financial position

Loss allowance for financial assets measured at amortised cost are deducted from the gross carrying amount of the assets.

(ii) Non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the Company's non-financial assets, other than inventories, are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated.

Any excess of the assets carrying amount over its recoverable amount is recognised in the profit or loss.

(d) Employee benefits

(i) Long-term employee benefits

The Company's net obligation in respect of long-term service benefits is the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods. The obligation is calculated using expected future increases in wage and salary rates including related on-costs and expected settlement dates, and is discounted using the rates attached to the Corporate bonds at the balance sheet date which have maturity dates approximating to the terms of the Company's obligations.

(ii) Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are expensed as the related service is provided. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid if the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

Short-term employee benefits are benefits that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months of the end of the annual reporting period in which the employee renders the service or which the Company has no unconditional right to defer settlement for at least 12 months of the end of the reporting period.

(iii) Termination benefits

Termination benefits are expensed at the earlier of when Company can no longer withdraw the offer of those benefits and when the Company recognises costs for a restructuring. If benefits are not expected to be settled wholly within 12 months at the end of the reporting, then they are discounted.

(iv) Defined contribution plans

Obligations for contributions to defined contribution plans are expensed as the related service is provided. Prepaid contribution are recognised as an asset to the extent that a cash refund or a reduction in future payments is available.

(e) Provisions

A provision is recognised if, as a result of a past event, the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. Provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows at a rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability.

(f) Revenue and other income

(i) Revenue recognition policy for revenue from contracts with customers (AASB 15)

AASB 15 requires revenue to be recognised when control of a promised good or service is passed to the customer at an amount which reflects the expected consideration. The customer for these contracts is the fund provider.

Revenue is recognised by applying a five-step model as follows:

- 1) Identify the contract with the customer
- 2) Identify the performance obligations
- 3) Determine the transaction price
- 4) Allocate the transaction price
- 5) Recognise revenue

Generally, the timing of the payment for sale of goods and rendering of services corresponds closely to the timing of satisfaction of the performance obligations, however where there is a difference, it will result in the recognition of a receivable, contract asset or contract liability.

None of the revenue streams of the Company have any significant financing terms as there is less than 12 months between receipt of funds and satisfaction of performance obligations. Costs are recognised on an accrual basis.

Grant income from Government

Grant income arising from an agreement which contains enforceable and sufficiently specific performance obligations is recognised when control of each performance obligations is satisfied. This is generally the case for the monies from the Government and the performance obligations are varied based on the agreement.

Within grant agreements there may be some performance obligations where control transfers at a point in time and others which have continuous transfer of control over the life of the contract.

Where control is transferred over time, generally the revenue is recognition based on either cost or time incurred which best reflects the transfer of control.

Affiliation fees

Revenue from affiliation fees is recognised in the profit or loss in proportion to the stage of completion of the transaction at the reporting date. The stage of completion is assessed by reference to the period to which membership relates.

(ii) Revenue recognition policy for revenue streams which are either not enforceable or do not have sufficiently specific performance obligations (AASB 1058)

Grant income

Assets arising from grants in the scope of AASB 1058 are recognised at their fair value when the asset is received. These assets are generally cash but maybe property which has been donated or sold to the Company at significantly below its fair value.

Once the asset has been recognised, the Company recognises any related liability amounts. Once the assets and liabilities have been recognised then income is recognised for any difference between the recorded asset and liability.

Capital grants

Capital grants received under an enforceable agreement to enable the Company to acquire or construct an item of property, plant and equipment to identified specifications which will be controlled by the Company (once complete) are recognised as revenue as and when the obligation to construct or purchase is completed.

For construction projects, this is generally as the construction progresses in accordance with costs incurred since this is deemed to be the most appropriate measure of the completeness of the construction project as there is no profit margin.

For acquisitions of assets, the revenue is recognised when the asset is acquired and controlled by the Company.

Volunteer services

The Company has elected not to record volunteer services in the financial statements. Volunteer services received relate to assisting in the organising and running of tennis events throughout the state of Queensland.

(iii) Significant estimate and judgements relating to revenue

For many of the grant agreements received, the determination of whether the contract includes sufficiently specific performance obligations was a significant judgement involving discussions with several parties at the Company, review of the proposal documents prepared during the grant application phase and consideration of the terms and conditions.

Grants received by the Company have been accounted for under both AASB 15 and AASB 1058 depending on the terms and conditions and decisions made.

If this determination was changed then the revenue recognition pattern would be different from that recognised in this financial report.

(g) Leases

At inception of a contract, the Company assesses whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company uses the definition of a lease in AASB 16.

(i) As a lessee

Initial recognition and measurement

At commencement or on modification of a contract that contains a lease component, the Company allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of its relative standalone prices. However, for the leases of property the Company has elected not to separate non-lease components and account for the lease and non-lease components as a single lease component.

The Company recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located, less any lease incentives received.

The right-of-use asset is subsequently depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the end of the lease term, unless the lease transfers ownership of the underlying asset to the Company by the end of the lease term or the cost of the right-of-use asset reflects that the Company will exercise a purchase option. In that case the right-of-use asset will be depreciated over the useful life of the underlying asset, which is determined on the same basis as those of property and equipment. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any, and adjusted for certain re-measurements of the lease liability.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, the Company's incremental borrowing rate. Generally, the Company uses its incremental borrowing rate as the discount rate.

The Company determines its incremental borrowing rate by obtaining interest rates from various external financing sources and makes certain adjustments to reflect the terms of the lease and type of the asset leased.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability comprise the following:

- fixed payments, including in-substance fixed payment;
- variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, initially measured using the index or rate as at the commencement date;
- amounts expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee; and
- the exercise price under a purchase option that the Company is reasonably certain to exercise, lease payments in an optional renewal period if the Company is reasonably certain to exercise an extension option, and penalties for early termination of a lease unless the Company is reasonably certain not to terminate early.

The lease liability is measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. It is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from a change in an index or rate, if there is a change in the Company's estimate of the amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, if the Company changes its assessment of whether it will exercise a purchase, extension or termination option or if there is a revised in-substance fixed lease payment.

When the lease liability is remeasured in this way, a corresponding adjustment is made to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset, or is recorded in profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero. The Company presents right-of-use assets that do not meet the definition of investment property in property, plant and equipment and lease liabilities in loans and borrowings in the statement of financial position.

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The Company has elected not to recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for leases of low-value assets and short-term leases, including IT equipment. The Company recognises the lease payments associated with these leases as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

At inception or on modification of a contract that contains a lease component, the Company allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of their relative stand-alone prices.

(ii) As a lessor

When the Company acts as a lessor, it determines at lease inception whether each lease is a finance lease or an operating lease.

To calculate each lease, the Company makes an overall assessment of whether the lease transfer substantially all of the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the underlying assets. If this is the case, then the lease is a finance lease; if not, then it is an operating lease. As part of this assessment, the Company considers certain indicators such as whether the lease is for the major part of the economic life of the asset.

If an arrangement contains lease and non-lease components, then the Company applies AASB 15 to allocate the consideration in the contract.

The Company recognises lease payments received under operating leases as income on a straight-line basis over the lease term as part of other income.

3. Significant accounting policies (continued)

(h) Finance income and costs

Finance income comprises interest income on funds invested. Interest income is recognised as it accrues in profit or loss, using the effective interest method.

Finance costs comprise interest expense on borrowings. All borrowing costs are recognised in profit or loss using the effective interest method.

(i) Income tax

The income of the Company is exempt from income tax under Div 50 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997, and accordingly, no provision has been made in the accounts for income tax payable.

Withholding tax from other jurisdictions is provided when the liability is due and payable.

(j) Goods and services tax

Revenue, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST), except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the taxation authority. In these circumstances, the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense.

Receivables and payables are stated with the amount of GST included.

Cash flows are included in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis. The GST components of cash flows arising from investing and financing activities which are recoverable from, or payable to, the ATO are classified as operating cash flows.

(k) Trade and other receivables

Trade and other receivables include amounts due from member associations as well as amounts received from customers for goods sold in the ordinary course of business. All receivables are expected to be received within 12 months of the end of the financial year and as such are classified as current assets.

Accounts receivable are recognised at fair value, less any provision for impairment. Refer to Note 3 (c) for further discussion on the determination of impairment losses.

(l) Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables represent the liabilities for goods and services received by the entity during the reporting period that remain unpaid at the end of the financial period. The balance is recognised as a current liability with the amounts normally paid within 30 days of recognition of the liability.

(m) New accounting standards and interpretations not yet adopted

The Company has initially adopted the following standard from 1 July 2021:

- AASB 1060 General Purpose Financial Statements - Simplified Disclosures for For-Profit and Not-For-Profit Tier 2 Entities

The above standards did not have any impact on the amounts recognised in prior periods and are not expected to significantly affect the current or future periods.

4. Determination of fair values

A number of the Company's accounting policies and disclosures require the determination of fair value, for both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities. Fair values have been determined for measurement and/or disclosure purposes based on the following methods.

- Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly
- Level 3: unobservable inputs for the asset or liability

Where applicable, further information about the assumptions made in determining fair values is disclosed in the notes specific to that asset or liability.

Report on the Audit of the Financial Report

Opinion

We have audited the financial report of Royal Queensland Lawn Tennis Association Ltd (the "Company"), which comprises the statement of financial position as at 30 June 2022 and the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, notes comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information, and the director's declaration.

In our opinion the financial report of the Company is in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, including:

- (i) giving a true and fair view of the Company's financial position as at 30 June 2022 and of its performance for the year then ended; and
- (ii) complying with Australian Accounting Standards – Simplified Disclosures and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and the ethical requirements of the Australian Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the Code) that are relevant to our audit of the financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We confirm that the independence declaration, which has been given to the Directors of the Company, would be in the same terms if given to the Directors as at the time of this auditor's report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other Information

The directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Company's annual report for the year ended 30 June 2022, but does not include the financial report and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial report does not cover the other information and accordingly we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial report, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial report or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Directors for the Financial Report

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards – Simplified Disclosures and the Corporations Act 2001 and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view and is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF ROYAL QUEENSLAND LAWN TENNIS ASSOCIATION LIMITED

In preparing the financial report, the directors are responsible for assessing the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of this financial report.

As part of an audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial report or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial report, including the disclosures, and whether the financial report represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit
